

My Network: What to do if I have a grievance

One of Heartland Kidney Network's jobs is to help you if you have a complaint (grievance) about the care you get at a dialysis or transplant center.

Qsource.
ESRD Network Strategies

Patients, patient advocates and family members can call the Network anytime, for any reason, about the care given at a Medicare-certified clinic and/or concerns about access to dialysis care.

What is a grievance?

Grievance: An objection, injustice, ax-to-grind, beef, hardship, injury

Who: Anyone (patient, family member or patient advocate)

What: Anything (nothing is too small)

When: Any time (sooner the better)

Where: At dialysis

Why: To make things better for all patients

Medicare defines a grievance as: "A written or oral communication from an end stage renal disease (ESRD) patient, and/or an individual representing an ESRD patient, and/or another party, alleging that an ESRD service received from a Medicare-certified provider did not meet the grievant's expectations with respect to safety, civility, patient rights, and/or clinical standards of care."

All dialysis patients have a right to file a grievance about their care with the clinic, the Network and/or the State Survey Agency and should feel safe when doing so.

How can I deal with my concerns?

You can call the Network at ANY TIME. You do not have to talk to the clinic first. But here are a few other suggestions that you can try:

Stay calm. Do not get angry. Get information instead.

Talk it out. Tell a staff member that you trust about your concerns.

Write it out. It may help you to focus on what is most important to you if you write down your thoughts.

Ask. If you are not getting an answer to your concerns, ask to talk to the next person in the clinic's grievance process.

What will happen when I call the Network?

The Network staff will listen to you, ask and answer questions and talk with you about what can be done to help you with your concern.

With your permission, the Network may then start calls with the clinic to talk and work with you all to help with your concern.

The Network may review your medical record to learn more about the care you were given.

The Network may refer your grievance to another agency if they have authority over issues like your concern.

What if I have a safety concern?

The Network and the State Survey agencies work together to handle grievances about dialysis or kidney transplant care. The State Survey Agency may go on-site to inspect a clinic.
